Coronavirus Response Plan

We want to provide our customers information regarding the steps CTC is taking to address the Coronavirus disease.

CTC is following guidance from governmental organizations on best practices to minimize, to the extent possible, employee and customer exposure to the disease. While no specific changes for the transportation industry are available, we have instructed our ferry and bus driver employees to clean seats, doors, railings, and other high touch surfaces several times per day.

Employees who have direct contact with passengers (e.g. selling tickets) will wear disposable gloves.

We will have masks available on the ferry and bus for passengers who are experiencing a cold, flu, etc. At this time, the supply of masks is very limited and we won't have enough masks available to provide them to healthy passengers.

We will use one of our large buses to transport customers, thus allowing more space for "social distancing".

Porta potties will be disinfected several times per day.

As soon as we can obtain a supply, we will have hand sanitizer available on both the buses and the ferry.

We will continue to closely monitor the situation and make adjustments in our response to the disease as appropriate.
